The course will be taught in English. If there are three or more participants from another language group, a translator may be contracted for translation.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Located in Athens, this program offers participants, through EME Ministries and other influential partnering churches and organizations, cross-cultural ministry training.

The program is divided into two twelve-week phases. The first phase in Athens is an introductory course with an optional two-week outreach with partners in the Mediterranean region. During the second phase of the program, students are placed with partners in North Africa, the Middle East, Europe or in their own sending country. This will provide a focused, supervised ministry experience and will be a continuation of the theoretical training. Participants can decide whether to do only the first or both phases.
